INTERSCHOLASTIC ATHLETIC MEET TO BE HELD ON CARY FIELD SATURDAY

Eleven Schools Will Be Represented With More Than One Hundred Contestants

On Saturday, May 24, there will be held on Cary Field the second track and field meet of the Tidewater Interscholastic Athletic Association. Eleven schools have made entries, and more than one hundred young athletes will contest for individual and school honors.

The schools to be represented in the coming meet are: Maury High School, winner of last year's contest, McGuire's University School, of Richmond, John Marshall High School, Fork Union Military Academy, Hampton High School, Benedictine College, of Richmond, Newport News High School, Toano and Williamsburg High Schools, and William and Mary Academy.

The local high school has made the following entries: Lewis, Geo. Lane, J. C. Slater, Edward Spencer and Vernon Geddy. The Academy will most probably enter Carey Jackson, winner of the 100-yard dash last year, Lohr, who was first in shot put, and Elcan, second in the mile race. Others are also expected to take part.

The contest last year, although the first ever held here, was a decided success and from all indications the coming meet will be equally as good, if not better. The events to take place are: 50, 100, 220, 440, 830, one mile, pole vault, high jump, broad jump, discus, shot put (12lbs.), and a relay race.

The following William and Mary men will officiate: Judges—Profs. Tyler and Bloxton and "Jack" Wright. Timers—Games, Frye and McAllister. Inspectors—Deel, Will Metcalf, Horne, and Garth. Measurers—Blitzer, Tilley, Turner, E. Wright. Announcer—A. W. James. Scorers—Peachy, S. Hubbard, H. Jones, J. Tucker. Starter and referee—Dr. Young.

In each event there will be given silver and bronze medals to first and second men. A silver and bronze medal will also be given to the two highest point winners. The successful relay team will be presented with a handsome silver cup, while the winning school gets the point trophy.

William and Mary lost her final championship game to Richmond by the score of 8 to 7. A detailed account will appear next week.

WILLIAM & MARY'S CHANCES FOR CHAMPIONSHIP LOWER

Bugg's Long Drive and Errors win for Hampden-Sidney. Tucker Wiends Stick in Superb Style

A large crowd witnessed the effect of loose playing on Cary Field Wednesday when Hampden-Sidney defeated William and Mary in a championship game by a score of 5-2. The true history of the game is not set forth by the score, for by all laws of calculation the locals should have added a victory to their list instead of allowing the Presbyterians from Farmville the plum.

Addington was again called upon to officiate on the slab, after having pitched against the Spiders on Saturday. As usual, the husky lad from the west, flung a la Walter Johnson style. Four hits, seven strike outs and two passes tell the tale of woe that befell the visitors.

Moore, the wild man from Borneo, with a rabbit's foot in each pocket, a four leaf clover in each button hole, and a horse shoe around his neck, smiled to see the locals fan out eight times, trying to kill the pill that was either aimed at an airship or the catcher's shoe laces.

A look of anxiety was on his delicate features when Tucker stole softly from the bench with his four foot bat. Yes, truly, the lad connected with the pill four times, two bingles and two singles out of as many times at the rubber.

The game was called in the ninth inning with the locals at bat because the visitors had to attend a Y. M. C. A. meeting in Ashland. Loud was the wail set up by the crowd. Tucker had singled, stole second, and violated one of the ten commandments for third. Peachy was dickering for a free transportation to the first town and had nearly closed the deal when the umpire, in a loud and penetrating voice, yelled, "The game is over. The visitors have won and the Y. M. C. A. meeting will be largely attended."

The funniest thing that ever happened on Cary Field occurred in the third inning. As everyone knows who has inspected the fence that surrounds the baseball park with an oil immersion lens microscope there is a minute aperture in the enclosing medium in the neighborhood of the center pasture. Now Bugg, (it is great to be "buggy") smote the pill where the whiskers discontinue to take root, and drove it (mirable dictu) through this minute opening. "Baby" Garth, and it is well he has the diminutive prefix, cast a longing look at the knot hole, recalled the day of miracles, assumed a diving attitude and hurled himself forward for the sphere. Alas! Bugg had arrived home, greeted all his anxious friends and was preparing to se coucher, when lo! the ball was seen to ascend high in the air and land in the waiting hands of the fielder. "Baby" had gone through the seemingly impossible place and recaptured what was thought to be lost, never to be regained.

Now if we called the last named event funny, what is the category in which we must place that atrocious act of Allender's. Remember ye, how this three hundred pound sprinter dashed for a pop fly at utmost speed. But he recalled in the days of his youth that the runner was out on first bound. He checked himself. He stopped still and again (mirable dictu) he caught the ball on first bound. When he awoke, amid the sulphurous cloud of profanity, he saw that another run had been scored and that no longer does the "first bound out" count.

The deciding as to whether a ball was fair or fouled led to so much discussion on two occasions that Prof. John Tyler was sent for to ascertain with his extraordinary math. ability and surveying instruments the true status of affairs. After much computation and mature consideration he found that both teams had been credited with fair hits when they were fouls by about four to ten feet. "The optical defects of the umpire in these days are appalling," saith the mathematical sage.

Score by inning:

W. & M 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 0-2
H. S. 2 0 1 1 1 0 0 x-5

Two base hits, Tucker (2); home run, Bugg; double play, Beding to Frey; sacrifice hits, Peachy, Frey; stolen bases, Tucker (2), Garth, Coombs (2); hit by pitcher, Garth. Umpires, Games and Savage.

PHILOMATHEANS ELECT EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF MAGAZINE FOR 1913-14

P. Lewis Witchley Unanimously Chosen. Other Staff Members and Society Officers Elected

At a regular meeting of the Philomathean Literary Society last Saturday night Mr. P. Lewis Witchley '13, was unanimously elected editor-in-chief of the William and Mary Literary Magazine for the session, 1913-1914. Mr. Witchley has been closely connected with college publications, having served as editor-in-chief of the Colonial Echo '13, and as sporting editor of The Flat Hat.

Mr. Clarence Jennings was selected as assistant business manager, and Mr. Henry Atwill Turner was chosen as editor of the Famous and Infamous department of the Magazine.

ELECTION OF SOCIETY OFFICERS

The officers for the opening fall term next year were chosen as follows: President, J. Lewis Tucker; vice-president, E. E. Givens; secretary, H. A. Campbell; treasurer, W. E. Somers; literary critic, P. Lewis Witchley, chaplain, H. L. Womack; censor, T. E. Wilkinson.

The constitution of the society was adopted with the revision, (1) that no student under Sophomore grade was eligible for presidency; (2) that the contestants for final programme were to be selected by competition instead of being elected as before; (3) that the term of office in the society shall be for one term instead of two months.

IMPROVEMENT MEDAL IN DEBATE

The medal for the greatest improvement in debate was awarded by the Phoenix Literary Society to Mr. C. A. Scott in a contest held Thursday night between the winner and Mr. F. W. Cooke.

ACADEMY MEN WIN MEDALS

At the final meeting of the Jefferson Literary Society Saturday night contests for improvement in oratory, debate and declamation were held. The medal for the greatest improvement in oratory was awarded to G. W. Booth over W. L. Joyce. J. L. Agee won the declamation medal with ease over several contestants, while W. C. West succeeded in capturing the debating prize.

At the conclusion of Mr. Stuart's address on Friday evening, President Tyler will give, a reception, to be held in the library building. All students are invited to attend.

LET THE STUDENT-BODY HAVE IT

Why not have the Literary Magazine published by the student-body? There was some excuse for having it retained as a literary society publication so long as it was a means of creating and maintaining interest in literary society work. But its usefulness in this respect is no longer very apparent: certain conditions have rendered it almost powerless. Besides, there are good reasons for believing that literary society work will be made compulsory in the near future, which would incapacitate the magazine still more as a stimulus.

WAKE UP!

Steps were recently taken leading to the organization of a student senate. Seven out of the necessary ten men were chosen, and it was understood that the other three would be selected at once. But thus far there has been nothing further done, despite the fact that the end of the scholastic year is staring us in the face. Now, wherefore this indifference and delay? Surely it can not be that the students do not want to take advantage of this opportunity to enlarge the sphere of their governmental activity. A larger degree of student self-government is universally desired. It must be negligence—and nothing more. Let the chairmen of committees already appointed, and the presidents of the classes that have not as yet elected representatives, get busy and see that this matter is attended to before it is too late.

FEAL SPORTSMANSHIP

William and Mary men are known to be good sportsmen. They have given consistent evidence of it not only in athletic and literary contests, but in every phase of student activity. There has been noticed recently, however, a tendency on the part of a few to "guy" different members of visiting athletic teams. True, in the majority of cases, this has not been done until the opposing side had given some provocation. But regardless of what the cause for resentment may be, it is not real sportsmanship to try to rattle any player. If some conduct themselves unbecomingly, or play "dirty ball," "guying" will not mend matters; it only lets those participating down to a level with the recipients. Good hearty rooting, whose purpose is encouragement, is very much to be desired. In fact, it is quite necessary. But when perverted in its use, it becomes obnoxious. Let William and Mary be a model for genuine sportsmanship.

BLUFFING

Not infrequently do we find men trying to bluff their way through the various phases of college life. And sometimes we see them attain to apparent success, which would seem to indicate that some are pretty easily gulled, or desirous of a certain amount of bluff. But despite the fact that the bluffer finds admission and is the recipient of gracious favors at the hands of a few, yet the great majority soon learn of his ways and treat him as he deserves to be treated.

In a sense the bluffer is an object of pity—and especially is this so if he has been very successful at it. For it is axiomatic that sometime in his career the artificialities will break away and leave the real man revealed—rejected and despised. But if the bluffer is an object of pity, the one bluffed is to be pitied still more, if he continues to allow himself to be fooled by the recognized bluffer. And yet there are those who permit such.

If you have been bluffing, quit it. It will certainly be appreciated, anyway by most of those affected.

MR. STUART FRIDAY NIGHT

On account of an unexpected call to Southwest Virginia, Hon. Henry C. Stuart, candidate for governor of Virginia, was prevented from filling his engagement to speak here last Friday evening. Mr. Stuart has written, however, that he will be here without fail on the night of Friday, May 23. The Flat Hat is not yet in possession of the subject of his address, but it is known that it will be well suited to college men, and not of a political nature. Dr. Hall, of the faculty, will preside at the meeting and introduce the speaker. The students and public are cordially invited to hear Virginia's next governor.

CLOSING Y. M. C. A. LECTURES

The series of lectures on "Some South American Problems," given before the Y. M. C. A. by Dr. W. P. Clarke, will be concluded next Tuesday evening by a talk on missions. The address this evening will deal with the educational and religious status of South American peoples.

These lectures have been throughout most interesting and instructive and, consequently, well attended. The Y. M. C. A. is much indebted to Dr. Clarke for his faithful work.

SUMMER SESSION HAS GOOD PROSPECTS

Director J. W. Ritchie announces that the prospects for a large attendance at the Summer Session are very encouraging. The school has been widely advertised among the high schools of the state and the south, and it is expected that the number of matriculates this year will be almost double that of last year. The session opens on June 18 and closes August 14.

GLEANINGS FROM EXCHANGES

Dr. J. M. Page, of the University of Virginia, has announced that the next qualifying examination of candidates for the Rhodes scholarships will be held at the University of Virginia on Tuesday, October 14, and Wednesday, October 15. Candidates from this state will take the examination at the University. Candidates from states other than Virginia, who may, at the time of the examination, be attending a Virginia college or university, may take the qualifying examination at the university, but should they qualify, they must present themselves before the committee of selection of their respective state. The subjects to be included in this examination will be Latin, Greek and Mathematics.

Oberlin ranks second in the country in the number of negro students in attendance.

Students at Harvard, Yale and Princeton who now occupy the rooms formerly used by Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson will meet together at New Haven for the purpose of forming a club. Only future members of those rooms will be eligible to membership.

A REMINDER

At this time of year it comes to me as a reminder that some fellows will not be able to play football next fall because they have neglected their studies.

No one knows why any man quits in this world, but nevertheless it happens. To those who are in danger now this may suggest that there is still a chance to do some things that they have left undone and be ready to do their part in this affair next fall. I have seen some men quit on the field and others who quit in their studies. I am not sure which is the worse, but guess we all agree that both are quitters.

Such cases are treated entirely too leniently today. They should have more publicity, be looked at in the face of cold, hard facts, and we should have fewer offenders.

We can make allowance for the good hard plugger whose brain works slowly, but for the man who loaf, we can have very little respect. I sincerely hope this is taken in the spirit it is sent, namely, as a reminder that studies come first, and no man can quit in the first thing if he expects to enter into the second. Dr. W. J. Young.

STUDENT SECRETARY VISITS Y. M. C. A

Rev. C. G. Hounshell, of New York, who is traveling secretary of the student volunteer movement for missions, visited the local Y. M. C. A. Sunday and Monday. While here he delivered two very fine addresses on the subject of missions. Mr. Hounshell is a very forceful and eloquent speaker, and he was greeted by large and attentive audiences.
